5. Enrolment and course material delivery terms

Students can nominate the number of modules they would like to receive when the enrolment is initially received. If a student chooses not to receive all modules initially, it will then become their responsibility to contact Pinnacle to order subsequent modules. Students should email Pinnacle at students@pinnacle.edu.au stating their full name, PIN number and current address details when ordering the additional module material.

*A skills assessment may not be required if one has been completed elsewhere. If one is required, no additional charges are payable if either 1) the student has completed four or more modules with Pinnacle or 2) Pinnacle approves a workplace assessor. If fewer than four Pinnacle modules have been completed, and a Pinnacle assessor is required, an additional charge of $150 is payable to undertake the skills assessment.

6. Student services information

Do you have any special learning or assessment needs that need to be taken into account to support your learning?

No Yes please call me to discuss

Are you applying for Recognition of Competency (ROC)?

If you have extensive experience or qualifications you may be eligible for ROC, which exists for students who can demonstrate work experience or previous training/qualifications relevant to the module or the Diploma as a whole. Pinnacle offers the following ROC pathways:

- 1) Mutual Recognition
- 2) Credit Transfer
- 3) Recognition of Prior Learning (RPL)
- 4) Customised Recognition

Note: ASIC RG146 has additional requirements relating to ROC. Qualifications do not provide compliance with RG 146 if they are issued on the basis of "assessment only" to individuals who have less than five years' relevant experience over the immediate past eight years. In this case, recognition is only effective for RG146 purposes if it is provided for the successful completion of courses that are listed on ASIC's training register.

No Yes

(If yes, please complete a separate ROC application form)
